

General Information for an Internship at Kadirgamar Institute

A limited number of internships are offered at LKIIRSS. Interns are supervised and their activities depend on the program they join. It can range from research work and the preparation of draft reports to administrative duties, assisting with event and media management, etc. No remuneration is available for interns. Interns are appointed for a period of three months.

Successful applicants can expect to gain direct exposure about management and work ethics of a leading National think-tank with a multinational presence.

Application Procedure

Various internship opportunities are available throughout the year; we advise that you check our website to get updates on the latest internship opportunities.

Applicants for internships should submit the following:

- A full Curriculum Vitae.
- A letter of motivation.
- A recent photo if possible.
- Two letters of reference.
- Short listed interns should face a preliminary interview.
- Selected interns will undergo an initial trial period of three weeks.
- We are happy to consider applications for full-time or for part-time internships.
- Hours are flexible for part-time interns.
- When considering candidate applications, we are not able to offer assistance in finding accommodation, nor can we apply for work permits or visas on your behalf for these assignments, if such is required.
- Applications should be emailed to Executive Director: asangaaa@gmail.com and copied to: lkiirss@gmail.com

We very much regret that due to a large number of applications we receive, we are only able to inform shortlisted candidates of the outcome of their application. If you do not hear from us within three weeks, please assume that you have been unsuccessful on this occasion. If your application is not successful, we hope that you will not be discouraged and will still apply for the next available Internship.
